Non-CNVV gliders and groups

The annual membership fee covers attendance at the weather and security briefings every morning. Glider fees are invoiced for 3 consecutive weeks maximum (free of charge for longer). Pilots may glide without supervision, but they may also request a check flight in a double-seater with an instructor (see rates below). A check flight is obligatory for first time in St Auban and for first winch launches. Pilots can integrate a group of pilots on Advanced gliding courses to benefit from ground theory courses and supervision during flights. For this they pay the «supervised pilot» fee. Pilots can also reserve a private instructor per day.
